Grow, Cook, Eat

Wed. March 7, 2012 7:00—9:00PM

by Willi Galloway, Author & Radio Host

Willi is an author and radio commentator, who writes about kitchen gardening and seasonal cooking. She offers vegetable gardening advice on the popular NPR call-in show, Greendays, and hosts the on-line garden-to-table cooking show, Grow, Cook, Eat.

Naturalizing Your Landscape

Wed. March 14, 2012 7:00—9:00 PM

Tonie Fitzgerald

WSU Master Gardener Program Leader

Tonie's start-to-finish presentation will show practical ways that you can use to transform a yard that is mostly lawn into beautiful and natural areas that encourage wildlife and at the same time increase the enjoyment of your yard and the value of your home.

The 50 Mile Bouquet

Wed. March 21, 2012 7:00—9:00 PM

by Debra Prinzing, Author

Most cut flowers for market are laden with chemicals and imported thousands of miles. This visually elegant presentation explores the "slow-flower" concept of local, seasonal, and sustainable ways to use flowers that often times grow right in your own backyard.

Spring In the Yakima Valley

Wed. March 28, 2012 7:00—9:00 PM

by Lenette Roehl, Garden Girl owner

Lenette is the owner of the Garden Girl, a stunning garden and gift shop located in the historic district of Yakima. She will talk about shrubs, trees, and perennials that flourish in the Yakima Valley.

Check-in 6:30 PM. Classes start promptly at 7:00 PM
Davis High School Kiva near 7th Ave. & Walnut
